The Connecticut Farms Presbyterian Church

The First Presbyterian congregation of Connecticut Farms is a member of the Presbyterian Church (USA). The First Presbyterian Congregation of Connecticut Farms was established 1730 when the townspeople built "the little church on the hill," and named it after the town. The original building was the weekday meeting house for public affairs, and a house of worship on Sundays. The British burned the church down in 1780 during the Battle of Connecticut Farms. The rebuilding of the "Meeting House of Connecticut Farms" began in 1783. The church roof was raised on October 11, 1784. For 289 years the Presbyterian Church of Connecticut Farms has been and continues to be a strong presence in the Township of Union and a vibrant faith community.

We offer services to the local community with our Monthly Food Pantry providing basic food items for as many as 90 families, comprised of the working poor, single parent households, veterans and the disabled. We charter Boy Scout Troop 68 and Cub Scout Pack 68. We run the Connecticut Farm Nursery School for the community children, hold summer camp for the community children as well as a week of Vacation Bible School, again attended by any local residents. Our music program holds two concerts a year for the community. We are involved with Kean University's program, Be the Change, helping to feed the homeless. We also support and are involved with two missions in the city of Elizabeth,

Our Annual Elva and Bob Wenz Golf Outing, to be held at the Royce Brook Golf Club, September 30, will continue to help us raise a portion of these needed funds. As a sponsor, you will help support our "Mission Possible!" and enable us to continue a vital ministry in the Union area for the next hundred years. Your business will also be associated with a positive force for good in the community and you and your guests will enjoy a delightful September afternoon of good food, challenging golf, great prizes, door prizes and warm fellowship with individuals from a wide variety of professional backgrounds.
